PHOENIX BAKERY

A GOOD NAME IS TO BE ENVIED

My Dear Henri:
Time in his unceasing flight finds me in the wonderful City of Phoenix, the former elysian bow of the Gods, and the spot where poor Adam, inveigled by the wiles of woman, degraded (?) himself, placed a curse on posterity, and finally escaped torture by squealing like a caged monkey, or as we would now say, "raising the white flag."—I wish you were here Henri, with your loose ducats and modern ideas of investment, for of all places on this terrestrial sphere, Phoenix presents more opportunities for wealth, health, good fellowship, and enterprise than any spot now marked on the map. And Henri, since you have got that other foot back to earth, and assumed the ways of a practical human, I feel more kindly toward you than when swelled with religious fervor, and those "pacifist" ideas you waved the banner inscribed "love," and started great ships, bearing small intellects, across the foaming waters, which with each bounding wave murmured, "Love's labor lost Henri!—Love's labor lost!—Wasn't it a mournful dirge?"

Now I'm impatient—Have you a Dear-born newspaper which already commands a $50,000 libel suit? Look out my old Rube, the name brings forebodings, and don't you forget your "Progressive Democracy merger," and those airy castles, back of which stood honor, fame, glory, with the U. S. senate a simple stepping stone, but awful slippery Henri, bal ha! We used to say, "many a slip 'twixt cup and lip," but that was before the cup was drained. Well, we all have troubles, and poor me who aspired to being a Jackpot winner as a Granddaddy, can only boast a penny ante draw-down. Tough, old boy, Tough!—But I grow tiresome; it was your late merits that I wish to eulogize for the mob are clamoring for a sample of your "milk and beef" produced without nature's consent, or even a consultation. Bless your old grey locks, all past weaknesses are buried and forgotten when by turning the spigot the lactical spouteth, and by amalgamating the little herbs there comes forth the prototype of a steaming boil, a sizzling roast, or that graveyard stew which is the delight of a laborer, when couched with a fine mulligan; and to think this gift to humanity was conceived in the brain of a FORD! Oh, 'tis glorious! Na pallin' the keow; no chawin bull beef; no pickin' thro' "messengers" for rats tails or cats claws, and yet these juicy viands, substituted and excelled by the hand of man!—Henri, I once thought the name "Ford" was originated by Satan and claimed by a Sinn Feiner for a marker, the Devil being in them, and they claiming Ford as accessory, but now, since it marks genius, greatness, inventions, and renown, with possible "omnipotence," I change my warwhoop which resoundingly echoes, Hurrah for the Fords!!!
